Cal Poly to Host Rep. Kevin McCarthy May 28

Cal Poly will host the "San Luis Obispo Energy Summit: America's Renewable Energy Future" Thursday, May 28 from 10 a.m. to noon in the Alex and Faye Spanos Theatre. The Summit, organized by the American Energy Solutions Group, will be led by Congressman Devin Nunes and Congressman Kevin McCarthy, with other Members of Congress participating. The event is free and open to the public. This event, one of several being held across the United States, is an opportunity for Members of Congress to join with leading experts on energy in a discussion about nuclear power, renewable and alternative energy technologies, and U.S. energy policy, as well as the effect energy legislation pending in Congress will have on American jobs and the economy as a whole. For more information, contact Stacia Momburg at ext. 6-6260.

Racism, Resilience, Resistance Subject of Talk May 29

The Chicana Latino Faculty Staff Association (CLFSA) and Division of Student Affairs will present a talk by Tara J. Yosso on Friday, May 29 in the Business Building Rotunda, Room 213 from 3:30-5 p.m. Yosso's free and public talk is titled, "Racism, Resilience, and Resistance: Counterstories of Community Cultural Wealth in Chicana/o Education." Yosso is an associate professor in the Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies at University of California, Santa Barbara. Yosso's teaching and research apply the frameworks of critical race theory and critical media literacy to examine educational access and equity, emphasizing the community cultural wealth students of color bring to school. Individuals wishing to join the Chicana Latino Faculty Staff Association may also register at the event site. For more information, contact José Montelongo at ext. 6-7492, Anita Hernandez at ext. 6-5537 or visit <http://www.ess.calpoly.edu/clfsa/>.
